PRESIDENTIAL POLICY DIRECTIVE-19

WITHOUT FEAR OF REPRISAL/RETALIATION

"The DoD's ability to protect our warfighters and safeguard the taxpayer's money depends on each of us. We rely heavily on our military members, civilian employees, and contractors to freely report issues of fraud, waste, and abuse without fear of retaliation. We all are potential whistleblowers and we should be aware of the protections afforded to us under the applicable statutes. It is a responsibility we can't afford to dismiss!"

Ken Sharpless, DoD OIG WPC

WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION HISTORY

- Congress wanted federal employees to report, without fear of retaliation, if they witnessed or otherwise became aware of fraud, misconduct, or other wrongdoing by federal officials, employees, contractors, or grantees
- Congress initially addressed whistleblower rights and protections for federal employees as part of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978
- Protections updated and strengthened in the Whistleblower Protection Act of 1989 (WPA) provided Federal employees very specific rights and protections if they “blow the whistle” on waste, fraud, and abuse in the federal government and personnel actions are taken against them
- Executive Order 12674, as amended, requires federal employees to, "disclose waste, fraud, abuse and corruption to appropriate authorities"
- The Whistleblower Protection Enhancement Act of 2012 broadened the scope for employee protections, and authorized an Ombudsman position to educate employees of each federal agency on their individual rights, responsibilities, and protections
- Congress passed the Whistleblower Protection Coordination Act in 2018 which renamed the Ombudsman to Whistleblower Protection Coordinator with similar responsibilities

DoD OIG WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION PROGRAM

- Administrative Investigations (AI): helps ensure ethical conduct throughout the DoD by conducting investigations and overseeing DoD Component investigations of allegations of misconduct by senior DoD officials, whistleblower reprisal, and Service member restriction from communication with an IG or Member of Congress. AI also manages the DoD Hotline and the Contractor Disclosure Program, provides education and training on whistleblower protections through its Whistleblower Protection Coordinator, and facilitates voluntary resolution of whistleblower reprisal allegations through its Alternative Dispute Resolution program
- Whistleblower Protection Coordinator (WPC): a designated individual who is required to educate agency (DoD) employees about whistleblower rights and protections, however is not an advocate for those who file a complaint
- Department of Defense Hotline: provides a confidential, reliable means to report violations of law, rule, or regulation; fraud, waste, and abuse; mismanagement; trafficking in persons; serious security incidents; or other criminal or administrative misconduct that involve DoD personnel and operations, without fear of reprisal. Allegations of reprisal can be reported through the DoD Hotline at: www.dodig.mil
- Directorate of Whistleblower Reprisal (WRI): a team of specialized investigators and alternative dispute resolution attorneys that review, investigate, and mediate when feasible, reprisal allegations from military service members, employees of contractors and grantees, nonappropriated fund instrumentality employees, employees within the intelligence community and those having access to classified information, and appropriated fund employees. The directorate also has oversight responsibility for reprisal allegations and reports of investigations originating from the service components and defense agencies
- Alternative Dispute Resolution Program (ADR): the Whistleblower Reprisal Investigations Directorate (WRI) offers a voluntary alternative dispute resolution (ADR) for complaints filed by employees of nonappropriated fund instrumentalities employees and Department of Defense employees of contractors, subcontractors, grantees, sub-grantees, and personal services contractors, as well as certain other qualified types of cases in an effort to reach a resolution of a complaint through mediation or facilitated settlement negotiations prior to or during an otherwise lengthy investigation process
